Cut in Interest Charges Is Urged To Aid Taxpayer

Ogilvie, Aldermanic and School Board Candidates Outline Platforms at Meeting in Bennett School Monday.

Labor control of city council has resulted in a confiscatory mill rate, and increase in the controllable expenditures in face of dwindling revenues, were charges leveled by Civic Government Association candidates at a meeting held at Bennett School Monday evening. The controllable expenditures were increased by $330,000 by the labor council while the Civic Government Association controlled school board had decreased expenditures by $27,500.

Increase in interest charges, the practice of the strictest economy in civic administration, and compelling of the provincial government to pay a greater share of the cost of education, health and social services were advanced as measures to bring relief to the overburdened taxpayer.

James H. Ogilvie, mayorally candidate, attacked the 64 mill rate imposed by the labor majority council. He pointed out that controllable expenditures had been increased by $330,000, and constantly pointed out that the Civic Government Association controlled school board had decreased expenditures by $27,500.

MORE TO CITY
The 64 mill rate would be the highest and more property on the city tax rolls than increasing the burden on those left with property. Last year, 2000 owners were forced to pay property tax. The estimate that unless drastic reduction in the tax rate was made that 4000 of these parcels would revert to city rolls.

There are too many properties on the city rolls now, said Ogilvie. The provincial government must be forced to pay a greater share of the cost.

Two Women, Man Arrested In Raid
Two women and a man were arrested when city detectives raided an alleged bawdy house on 97 street late Monday afternoon. Annie Diduck and Doris Kothe were taken into custody on charges of being keepers, while John Stark faces a count of "being found with a woman."

With warrants to arrest, Detective Albert Biddell raided the place shortly after 4 p.m. Monday. In less than an hour, the accused had been released on bail.

Four Players Disposed of Following Opening Week's Work

OSHAWA, Ont., Oct. 30.—Manager Joe Simpson, Selkirk, Man., contribution to the New York Americans of the National Hockey League, has started the weeding-out process with his squad of prospects in training.

It has been a long time since an Edmonton grid line went out after such a flock of honors as Varsity is seeking and all local fans will be pulling strongly for success.

There will be given admission to the league instead of Edmonton and Calgary should they prove their ability to operate through the season.
